Invitation to Join SPARK
From: Friends of SPARK/ Community Partner

Subject: You’re invited to join SPARK

Hello,

You’ve been invited by Rush University Medical Center to learn more about SPARK, a large, online research partnership that seeks to improve the lives of people with autism through research. You can visit SPARK online here.

The goal of SPARK is to accelerate autism research in order to gain a better understanding of causes and treatments for autism. By building a community of tens of thousands of individuals with autism and their biological family members who provide behavioral and genetic data, SPARK will be the largest autism research study to date.

By joining SPARK, you would be making invaluable contributions to advancing the understanding of autism.

LEARN ABOUT SPARK

Registration takes about 20-30 minutes, and we’d love to have you on board. As part of your participation in SPARK, you will be asked to register and complete a few questionnaires online, and provide a saliva sample using a saliva collection kit that will be shipped directly to your home. Find out more about what’s involved on our SPARK FAQ page.

Together, we can improve lives by helping to accelerate research. SPARK sincerely appreciates your time, effort and participation in this landmark research initiative, and we look forward to learning more together!

Please share this link with any families or individuals who might be interested!

Holly Lechniak
Licensed Clinical Social Worker
Autism Assessment, Research, Treatment and Services (AARTS) Center
Department of Psychiatry
Rush University Medical Center

(312)-563-2765
Holly_N_Lechniak@rush.edu

SPARK
RUSH UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER